AQA Paper 1 Question 1

Example 1

Dropping his fishing line into the water, Niall ran his tongue over his teeth, and bit back the questions he wanted to ask: not about the fishing, but about where Ciaran had been for the last eighteen years. The last time Niall had seen Ciaran was when Niall himself was in the dock, about to go down after the judge had read out his miserable sentence. Niall had looked over to the gallery, and seen his brother's haunched shoulders disappearing through the doorway...and until his car had pulled up outside his house last week, Niall had assumed he had either left the country, or died.
